

BEWARE OF FALSE AND FRAUDULENT HOUSING CLAIMS

Beware of unauthorized travel agencies contacting AAOS exhibitors regarding hotel reservations for our 2010 Annual Meeting in New Orleans

They begin by leaving a message stating there is a problem with your reservation and ask for a return call in order to sell you hotel rooms at “wholesale rates” as the “official housing service for AAOS.” Beware of these kinds of scams. Doing business with a company other than AAOS’s official housing company, Wyndham Jade, is at your own risk. Companies like this take reservations, deposits and send room confirmations. However, when the exhibitor or attendee tries to check into their hotel room: (1) the hotel does not have a reservation; (2) the hotel is holding a reservation at a room rate three to four times higher than the discounted rate that was promised; or (3) the company has gone out of business, leaving exhibitors and attendees without hotel rooms and lost deposits.

Wyndham Jade is the only “official housing bureau” for AAOS.
